2021 MILWAUKEE FILM FESTIVAL
May 6-20
Hello Film Fans!

It’s appropriate that, for our first-ever spring Milwaukee Film Festival, the significance of the season is stronger than it’s ever been.

Our world is opening up, and our thoughts are once again wandering beyond the confines of anxiety and isolation that have defined the past 14 months. Though we’re not yet to the point of safely welcoming crowds to a packed house at the Oriental Theatre, we can envision a time in the not-too-distant future when that will be happening again.

In the meantime, we are incredibly pleased to bring you the 13th annual Milwaukee Film Festival, presented by Associated Bank.

Though we’re still virtual, the stories shared through this year’s films have real impact. There’s something for everyone – compelling documentaries, soaring features, quirky shorts, stories from distant shores, and local treasures.

When you look at our films, it’s amazing to see how the film industry – and Milwaukee Film itself – have endured through a year when nearly everything we took to be normal was suddenly out of reach. Both filmmaking and film viewing are community endeavors that compel us to gather in person. There was a time when we briefly questioned whether we’d have enough content to offer our film festivals during a pandemic. But that hasn’t been the case at all, and it’s a testament to the unstoppable nature of the creative spirit.

On the cover, our bright and beautiful Festival artwork shines like the light at the end of a tunnel. We wanted to lean into our hopes and aspirations this year, so we asked Wisconsin artist Monique Machut to help our audience feel like they could “see the world” through our films. The optimism we hold for the coming months radiates off the page and makes us want to immediately pack our bags.

Before you dust off your passport, let’s take 15 days to settle into the comfiest seat in the house and watch for a location where we want to go next. We can’t wait for you to dive into this year’s films and events, and we really, really can’t wait to see you all again in person … soon.

Thank you for your continued support of Milwaukee, of film, and of Milwaukee Film. Our Festival wouldn’t be here without your generosity.

Milwaukee Film began in 2009 as primarily a film festival that occurred for 11 days. Today, we operate 365 days a year as one of the nation’s leading nonprofit institutions dedicated to film, culture, and community.

We are committed to enriching, educating, and entertaining our community through film presentations, signature events, and year-round education programs for all ages. Our incredibly generous Annual Fund supporters provide us the visionary support we need to fulfill our mission and continue to thrive.

How to Fest

Your 2021 calendar is going to look a little different this year. This spring, see the world and discover something amazing at our virtual 13th annual Milwaukee Film Festival.

Who Can Watch?

Whether you have a pass or you’re planning to select one film at a time, you’re a part of MFF2021.

Please note that all films are available only to viewers within the U.S., and due to regulations from film distributors, a few titles will be restricted to Wisconsin. Those films are clearly marked in the film descriptions.

Tickets and passes can be shared with members of the same household, but not beyond that.

When to Watch?

Most films will be available throughout the Festival.

If you have a ticket, you can view your film up to 48 hours from the time you start watching. Passholders can view at their leisure, dependent on availability. A couple of titles have special restrictions; those films are clearly marked in the film descriptions.

The Milwaukee Film Festival turns back into a pumpkin at 11:59 p.m. CT on Thursday, May 20, so no matter when you start your film, it won’t be available at midnight.

Please note: Even though we’re virtual, films can still sell out! Film distributors may put restrictions on how many people can stream their film. If you have a title you don’t want to miss, your best bet is to watch it early in the Festival.

Join us nightly at 8 p.m. CT on CineSend, Facebook, YouTube, or Twitter for The Nightcap, a talk-show style live Q&A series, presented by The Yabuki Family Foundation.
Where to Watch?

All festival films and events will take place virtually this year, so pick the comfiest seat you can, and settle in to enjoy!

How to Watch?

Watching our films is easy!

Watching our films is easy! You can watch any film on your computer, tablet, or smartphone. Or download our app and watch on your TV through:

- Apple TV
- Roku
- Amazon Fire TV
- Android TV

If you don’t have any of those platforms for your TV, but you do have a laptop and an HDMI cable, that’s a reliable way to get our films on your TV.

Please note that our streaming platform, CineSend, may have restrictions on screen mirroring to protect our filmmakers’ intellectual property. If you’re planning to watch on a projector or similar device, you may run into those restrictions.

PASSES

If you have a pass, you will get instructions via email on how to set up your login details. Once you’ve downloaded the app of your choice, you can pair the app with your pass, and log in directly through the app. If you’re not using an app, go to watch.mkefilm.org and log in there.

TICKETS

Tickets to single films are available starting at 12 p.m. CT on Thursday, May 6 through mkefilm.org/mff.

1. Click on “FILMS” to view the full listings.
2. Click “view more” on the film you want to see, then click the “purchase ticket” button.
3. After you check out, click the “watch online” link from your receipt or use your voucher code to watch through one of our apps or at watch.mkefilm.org, after clicking “watch online” you have 48 hours to complete the film.

EVENTS

Our events will be streamed through CineSend, as well as to the Milwaukee Film YouTube, Facebook, and Twitter pages.

- youtube.com/mkefilm
- @milwaukeefilm
- @mkefilm

Events will take place throughout the Festival; full listings are at mkefilm.org/mff/events.

25 Weeks: A Wisconsin Pizza Harvest
USA / 2021 / 56 min / English
Watch as farmer, filmmaker, and general Renaissance man Charlie Tennessen takes archival wheat seeds from planting to harvest with the help of his trusty barncats and three lovely donkeys. This meditative journey across 25 weeks (winter to autumn 2020) of weather, hard work, and persistence will make you appreciate food on a whole new level. Come for the pizza, but stay for the bucolic slice of life lived at a deliberate pace.

Bill Traylor: Chasing Ghosts
USA / 2020 / 75 min / English

Born into slavery in 1853, Bill Traylor witnessed profound social and political change during his life – spanning slavery, Reconstruction, Jim Crow segregation, and the Great Migration. In his late 80s, despite living homeless, he poured this wealth of experience and emotion into more than 1,000 pieces of art and would eventually become one of the most celebrated American, self-taught artists. Balancing interviews with Traylor’s family, visual art, and music, this film is a must-see for any art lover. WISCONSIN ONLY

Call Me Human
Canada / 2020 / 78 min / French, Innu-aimun with English subtitles

In Joséphine Bacon’s language, Innu means “human,” and there is no word for “poet.” But Bacon has traversed and redefined these paradoxical identifiers exquisitely throughout her life, which we get to follow intimately in Kim O’Bomsawin’s Call Me Human. In this enchanting portrait of the legendary septuagenarian author, songwriter, and documentary filmmaker, Bacon tours the tremendous landscapes that have shaped her people’s language, culture, and traditions, whose preservation has been her life’s work. Undine
Germany, France / 2020 / 90 min / German with English subtitles
Christian Petzold (director of MFF2018 favorite Transit) returns to our screens with the mysterious fable, Undine. Christoph is smitten when he meets the enchanting Undine at her history lecture. Their relationship blossoms into a romance, but Christoph gets the feeling that Undine is keeping secrets from him. He feels ridiculous even thinking it, but could Undine be the vengeful mermaid of lore? WISCONSIN ONLY

Who We Are: A Chronicle of Racism in America
USA / 2021 / 118 min / English
Interweaving lecture, personal anecdotes, interviews, and all-too-unknown histories, ACLU deputy legal director Jeffery Robinson (and Marquette grad) presents a must-see primer on anti-Blackness in America, calling no one out but calling all in to walk around these histories and find the humanity and empathy within these stories. Not to be missed by anyone living in 2021 America, you’ll be thinking and talking about this film for years to come.

Wojnarowicz
USA / 2020 / 105 min / English
David Wojnarowicz (VOY-na-ROH-vitch) was a key voice in the New York City queer activist art scene swirling around the AIDS crisis. In this fiery documentary portrait, director Chris McKim blends Wojnarowicz’s paintings, photos, music, films, answering machine messages and recollections from his community (including the incomparable Fran Lebowitz) to trace the legacy of his unapologetic way of seeing a world in which the personal and the political are inextricably tangled. WISCONSIN ONLY

Workhorse Queen
USA / 2020 / 88 min / English
Ed Popil is a 47-year old telemarketer living in suburban Buffalo who performs as the drag queen superstar Mrs. Kasha Davis. This intimate documentary follows them from RuPaul’s Drag Race through the fiercely competitive world of drag, where older queens are overlooked for younger stars and where fame doesn’t always live up to the hype. Workhorse Queen is a sobering portrait of Popil’s struggles with addiction and shows the work behind the glam.

Women is Losers
USA / 2021 / 84 min / English
Celina Guerrera (Lorenza Izzo) is a good Catholic girl growing up in 60’s San Francisco. She’s bright and full of potential until an unintended pregnancy alters her life and forces her to confront a system that too often leaves minorities and single mothers behind. Named for a Janis Joplin song, Lissette Feliciano’s feature debut is a fresh and timely look at radical feminism through the lens of culture, class, and identity.

Writing with Fire
India / 2021 / 93 min / Hindi with English subtitles
Reminiscent of the work of multi-MFF alum Ramona Diaz (A Thousand Cuts, Motherland), this uplifting documentary introduces the audience to the fearless journalists behind Khabar Lahariya, India’s only newspaper run by Dalit (“untouchable”) women. In these women’s stories, directors Rintu Thomas and Sushmit Ghosh demonstrate the power of the press and of speaking truth to power, no matter where, by whom or how it is done. WISCONSIN ONLY

Wuhan Wuhan
United States, Canada / 2021 / 90 min / Chinese with English subtitles
Yung Chang (Up The Yangtze, China Heavyweight, MFF2012) captures the dignity and kindness of five everyday people caught up in the first COVID-19 lockdown in Wuhan, China. With a classic verité perspective, this documentary strips away statistics to reveal the humanity (and sometimes humor) to be found in the quotidian of a time that is anything but. Ultimately hopeful, this film has the power to remind us of our common experiences as a global community without borders.

You Will Die at Twenty
Sudan, France, Egypt, Germany, Norway, Qatar / 2019 / 103 min / Arabic with English subtitles
During her son’s naming ceremony, a Sheikh predicts that Sakina’s child, Muzamil, will die at the age of 20. Muzamil is haunted by this prophecy and commits to living a pious life while he can. When he turns 19, he meets a traveler who tells him about the world outside his Sudanese village and sheds skepticism on this prophecy of doom. Slowly, but surely Musamil begins to question his fate and his faith all while his 20th birthday looms ever closer.

Young Warriors
Brazil / 2020 / 74 min / Portuguese with English subtitles
Cosme and his wife Maria have long yearned to attend a festival in Barbalha city. When they decide to finally check this off their bucket list, they bring their son Benedito, nephew Matheuzinho, and niece Bruna on a series of adventures in their (somewhat dubious) Jeep. The young travel companions encounter ancient landscapes and histories that now seem new, other, even miraculous. Despite their differences, this trip will bond this trio of friends for life. AGES 9+

Super-Secret Members-Only Screening

Available from 4 p.m. to 11:59 p.m. ONLY
Yup, this great Festival tradition continues in the virtual realm! Like other years, our Members will get an email asking them to RSVP to this film – and we’ll have a limited number of seats (or in this case, views) available. The lucky members who RSVP first will get detailed access instructions via email on May 19.

We know there’s a global pandemic and the world is all weird and stuff, but NO, you can’t find out the title in advance. It’s a surprise!
A Heartfelt Note from Milwaukee Film...

The past year has been a difficult one for all of us. At the very least, there was a level of uncertainty with every day that passed.

As a nonprofit cultural institution, of course we were immediately concerned about our future and how we would survive this ongoing crisis. But, the very first thing that signaled to us we would make it through the most challenging time for our organization was the response from you, our Members. We received a torrent of messages of support and appreciation for our work. Well wishes, words of consolation, and promises to stick with us throughout. Not to mention your renewals, upgrades, and amazing donations!

Our existence has and always will depend on our supporters and you sent us a welcome message that we’re not going anywhere!

You’re the wind beneath our wings, the gin in our juice, the Abbott and Costello movies on a Sunday afternoon in the 80s... (that last one may be too specific to our childhood)...

We’ve said it so many times before, but perhaps never in so lovely a font as this.....

Thank You!
About Milwaukee Film

Milwaukee Film is a nonprofit arts organization dedicated to entertaining, educating, and engaging our community through cinematic experiences, with a vision to make Milwaukee a center for film culture.

We operate the magnificent Oriental Theatre, a historic cinema palace committed to high-quality and accessible film and education programming. Since 2009, the annual Milwaukee Film Festival has brought together film fans and filmmakers to celebrate the power of cinema. Our education programs and Cultures & Communities (C&C) platform provide avenues toward making our community a more empathetic and equitable place for everyone to live.

Milwaukee Film Festival (MFF)
The cornerstone of Milwaukee Film's programs, our annual Milwaukee Film Festival attracted more than 87,000 attendees into packed cinemas in 2019 (remember when we could do that?) and more than 66,000 moviegoers at last year's first all-virtual festival. Recognized in 2019 by Moviemaker Magazine as one of the Coolest Film Festivals in the World, MFF is also the largest arts event in the city. MFF has served to elevate Milwaukee's film industry, as well as bring world-class films and filmmakers to local audiences. It's a celebration of film, arts, and culture unlike anything else in our community.
Oriental Theatre
Since getting the keys in 2018, Milwaukee Film has worked to revitalize and restore our city’s historic cinema palace, the Oriental Theatre. In 2019, we fully restored one of the three houses inside the theater, replaced the lobby concessions stand, and still showed nearly 250 film titles outside of MFF. After the theater closed in March 2020 due to the coronavirus pandemic, we began our next phase of renovations, working to restore much of the theater’s other two houses while also incorporating hearing loops for improved accessibility. We look forward to reopening the theater this year so we can all enjoy amazing films and this gem of a building together again.

Cultures & Communities
Milwaukee Film's new Cultures & Communities initiative focuses on prioritizing diverse cultural perspectives, lived experiences, and representations of historically marginalized communities through the use of film, conversation, events, and presentations. In 2020, building on the success of the Minority Health Film Festival, we invested deeply in this collaborative effort as a direct response to the global pandemic and social unrest. The efforts, started in 2019, have most recently resulted in the 2021 Black History Month and Women’s History Month programs. C&C is poised now to strengthen the impact of established programs such as Black Lens, Cine Sin Fronteras, GenreQueer, and Women in Film, while simultaneously developing new programs and events out of collaborations with individuals and institutions throughout Milwaukee.

Education
Beyond screening movies, Milwaukee Film’s vision is to foster deeper audience engagement with film and to serve our community. Our education programs are critically important elements of this work. Whether it’s 8-year-olds or 80-year-olds, film professionals or professional film fans, educators or students, participants in our education programs are part of the lasting impact we seek to have on local movie lovers. Visit our website for more information on these programs.
