Dear Teachers,

Welcome to the Milwaukee Film Education Screenings! We are delighted to have you and thankful that so many Milwaukee-area teachers are interested in incorporating film into the classroom!

So that we may continue providing these opportunities, we do require that your class complete at least one activity in conjunction with the screening of Abe, directed by Fernando Grostein Andrade. Your cooperation ensures that we're able to continue applying for funding to bring in these films and offer them to you (and literally thousands of students) at such a low cost.

This packet includes several suggestions of activities, discussion questions, and a special event at MPL Mitchell Street Branch Cargill Community Kitchen built around Abe (see Curriculum Packet Contents for details) that fulfill a variety of Common Core Standards. Let us know if you need a different file format! Feel free to adapt and modify the activities for your own classroom. Students could also simply journal, blog, or write about their experience.

You can send evidence of the work you did to integrate the film into your classroom electronically or by mail. This could include: links to online content, Google Drive folders, scanned material, photocopied or original student work concerning the film/film-going experience or even your own anecdotal, narrative accounts. We should receive this evidence of your integration of the film into your classroom by December 31, 2019. All of what you send us will help us write and fulfill the grants that allow us to bring these films to you and your students at such a low cost. We may also post some of the best work on our website (with students' first names and school only) later in the semester (if you would prefer we not share your students' work publicly, please let us know).

There is an Essay Contest in this packet! Submit writing from your students in response to the standard prompt we offer here by Tuesday December 31, 2019 for consideration. A panel of judges will select the best essay and a runner-up in each grade range to receive a bookstore gift certificate as a prize. See the Essay Contest handout in this packet for more details.

Send student work or evidence via email to marielle@mkefilm.org or by mail to:

- Activity Sheet: “Pre-Screening Activity: Abe”

Teacher Note
This activity is intended to be done prior to attending the Education Screening of Abe. This pre-screening activity introduces the concept of the film to students via the film's official trailer and Sundance website. Engaging students in a discussion of the film before seeing the entire feature allows students to gain familiarity with the film, understand the concept of the film, recognize story elements such as character and problem, make predictions, and raise their engagement level as active thinkers while viewing the film.

Directions

1. Lead a discussion to get your students ready to make the most of your visit to the 2019 Milwaukee Film Education Screening by actively thinking about storytelling on film, specifically using the feature film you'll be seeing, Abe. Guide the discussion:
   a. Explain to students that they will be attending a Milwaukee Film Education Screening (a field trip to the movies). Activate background knowledge and connections regarding the festival, film festivals in general, seeing a movie in a theater, or watching movies.
   b. Share the name of the film (Abe), which will be a clue in the main character's identity development. (Students may also recognize the actor who plays Abe as Noah Schnapp. Noah also plays Will Byers on the Netflix series Stranger Things.)
   c. Share the film's Sundance (or IMDB) website and project (or give access to) it so all students can see it: https://www.sundance.org/projects/abe. Share the synopsis (a brief summary of a film's storyline). Read aloud the synopsis and give students time to turn and talk about their thoughts:

   "Finding one's identity is a challenge everyone faces, but few have the pressure that 12-year-old Abe feels as the son of an Israeli mother and Palestinian father. Though his parents have raised him in a secular household, both sets of grandparents insist he chooses between being Jewish or Muslim. Thankfully, Abe has a passion for food that allows him some escape from the escalating family tensions that are a reflection of the generations-old conflict between Israel and Palestine. While exploring Brooklyn to discover new foods, he meets Chico, a Brazilian chef who believes “mixing flavors can bring people together.” Chico teaches Abe not only the inner workings of a professional kitchen but how to blend flavors with delicious results. Abe uses his newfound cooking skills to plan a Thanksgiving feast that celebrates his diverse heritage, with the hope of unifying his family. This coming-of-age tale demonstrates the power of food and love to..."
overcome prejudices, while illuminating the challenges surrounding one of the longest-running conflicts on our planet.”

2. Sharing the Film Trailer
   a. Ensure understanding of what a film trailer is (a “commercial” that grabs our interest, shares the big problem characters face in a film’s storyline, and we’ll only know how the problem resolves if we see the film. It also gets our minds making predictions about the whole film.”
   b. As a class, watch the trailer for Abe: youtu.be/rpmWZufcTfo or bit.ly/2mnlz1b
   c. Use the questions on the activity sheet to gather predictions from the class about the film based on the trailer.

3. Come back together as a group to discuss students’ predictions and hold onto that work until after you have seen the film. Revisit them to see how much the film trailer and synopsis helped them make predictions.

Pre-Screening Activity: Abe

After watching the trailer for the film Abe, respond thoughtfully to the questions below.
(youtu.be/rpmWZufcTf0 or bit.ly/2mnIz1b)

1. What are your impressions of the film after seeing the trailer?

2. What do you know about the film based on the trailer? Be specific.

3. What do you predict the film will be about, beyond what you observed in the trailer?

4. How did you make these predictions?

5. Do you have any background knowledge or connections to content you viewed in the trailer?

6. What are you wondering about after viewing the trailer? What questions do you have?
Writing a Movie Review: Two Thumbs Up?

Teacher Resources

- Activity Sheet: “Writing a Movie Review: Two Thumbs Up?”

Teacher Note

This activity is designed to be completed after the Education Screening so students can construct an informed analysis and critique of the film. This activity involves composition of a film review for Abe. By viewing a film, reading various film reviews, and writing their own, students will deeply engage their media literacy and higher order thinking skills.

Directions

Part One:

1. Prompt students to familiarize themselves with various film reviews. This may be done with partners or small groups. Direct students to the following online resources or print out examples ahead of time:
   - www.scholastic.com/content/dam/teachers/lesson-plans/migrated-files-inbody/sample_movie_reviews.pdf
   - www.rottentomatoes.com

2. Encourage students to provide their analysis of how the reviews are organized and what components are present in the review. Students should notice that the reviews provide who made the film—the director(s) and/or animator(s)—the setting of the film, the characters and how they develop in the film, the plot of the film, and the reviewer’s opinion of the film.

3. Discuss where students find reviews in their everyday lives and the different audiences/purposes reviews are aimed for. This will start students thinking about the tone and focus of their own review.
Part Two: Prompt students to record information about Abe to begin development of their own movie review. Answer the questions provided on the accompanying Activity Sheet. This may be done with a partner or small group to strengthen quality of responses, though opinions and ideas may differ.

Part Three: Have students write their own movie review of Abe. A simple organizational structure for the student film reviews would be:

- a brief summary of the film (include who created it)
- an analysis of a specific moment or character in the film
- their opinion of the film

NOTE: This activity is adapted from a lesson plan developed by Scholastic. The full lesson plan can be found at:

NAME:__________________________

Writing a Movie Review: Two Thumbs Up?

Part One: Read and consider the sample movie reviews and record your observations about the reviews in the space provided.

1. What do you notice about the type of information included in the movie review?

2. What do you notice about how the movie reviews are organized?

3. What do you notice about the personal opinions provided by the reviewer?

4. Which elements of movie reviews are most important to include? Why?
Part Two: Complete the information for Abe to begin organizing your thoughts for your own movie review.

Who created the film? When was it made?

What are the settings of the film?

Who are some of the characters in the film? Do those characters change or stay the same? Explain.

Summarize the film’s plot by listing the important parts of the storyline:
Name a key moment (content) or feature (style) in Abe and what it made you think and feel:

What is your opinion of the film?

Who would you recommend this film to and why?
Part Three: Organize your responses from Part Two into a movie review of Abe. Use additional lined paper if needed. A simple organizational structure would be:

1. Introductory sentence with name of the film, who made it, and when it was made.
2. One paragraph summarizing the film including the setting, characters, and basic plot.
3. One paragraph analyzing a specific aspect of the film (ex: the plot or a character).
4. One paragraph explaining your opinion of the film and to whom you recommend it.
Film Reflection: The Head, The Heart, and The Gut

Teacher Resources
-Activity Sheet: "Film Reflection: The Head, The Heart, and The Gut"

Teacher Note
We encourage students to think about the film Abe and how they respond to it. Namely, which part of the film appealed to their “head, heart, and/or gut”? What questions do they still have? What emotions did they experience watching the film? Students are likely to share their opinions about their “favorite” parts, but also their other thinking, and this activity provides the opportunity to express their responses to a part of the film or the overall film.

Directions
1. Gather as a whole group to discuss the film. Run a discussion as best fits the needs of your classroom. Here are some discussion ideas to get you started:
   - Discuss personal reactions to the film (what they liked, didn’t like, questions)
   - Discuss filmmaking techniques observed (camera shots, lighting, sound, effects)
   - Divide students into partners or small groups to discuss the film.
   - Students ask questions or voice what they are still wondering about, have other students respond with their ideas
   - Discuss by reactions: “What was confusing? Shocking? Interesting? Etc.”
2. Ask students to think about the film and pick one part, or the overall whole film, with which they connected. This may be their favorite part, a part that appealed to them for any reason, or engaged them in an emotion or experience that was memorable. One way to explain:
   Head = Something they learned
   Heart = A part they loved or a part that was meaningful for them
   Gut = A part that stuck with them that elicits a response
3. Using the included activity sheet ("Film Reflection: The Head, The Heart, and The Gut"), ask students to identify an idea they can reflect upon. Encourage students to support their opinion by writing about specific elements and aspects of the film, such as:
   - Characters
   - Setting
   - Plot
   - Events
   - Conflict
   - Tone
   - Symbolism
   - Beginning/Ending/Resolution
4. Students should write on topic, appropriate for grade level writing expectations. If needed, students may continue on an additional piece of paper and attach it to the activity sheet. When finished, come back together as a group to share thoughts, questions, and reflections.

Teacher Note
Students will have the opportunity to go “behind the scenes” to hear what Director Fernando Grostein Andrade and Lead Actor Noah Schnapp (recognizable from the Netflix series Stranger Things) have to say in interviews (2 by media outlets at the Sundance Film Festival, 1 self-recorded by the director) about the inspirations and creation of Abe. Any may be watched before your visit to the Education Screening. One that will “set the table” best and make the most sense to watch ahead of time is the Sundance Institute video created by the director. They will all be appreciated after the film. This activity helps students think about how real life can influence stories seen on screen, as characters and storylines reflect the filmmakers’ actual lived experiences.

Directions
1. Gather as a whole group to discuss the film. Run a discussion as best fits the needs of your classroom. Here are some discussion ideas to get you started:
   - Discuss personal reactions to the film (what they liked, didn’t like, questions)
   - Discuss filmmaking techniques observed (camera shots, lighting, sound, effects)
   - Divide students into partners or small groups to discuss the film.
   - Students ask questions or voice what they are still wondering about, have other students respond with their ideas
   - Discuss by reactions: “What was confusing? Shocking? Interesting? Etc.”
2. Together as a class, watch the videos named in the resources above, in that order. They each address different questions about the film itself, what was learned in the filmmaking process, and connections they found within the characters and story itself. As students watch, they should take notes on the accompanying Activity Sheet. At the end of the videos, give students time to look back and add more to their notes.
   - Sundance Institute (3:05)
   - Collider (13:38)
   - Deadline Hollywood (2:03)
3. When finished watching the interviews and note-taking, split into small groups or partners to discuss some of the topics. Come back together as a whole group to share thoughts, questions, and reflections.

Director and Actor Interviews: A Behind The Scenes Look at The Making of Abe

While watching the interviews with the director and lead actor of the film Abe, take notes on the questions below. When you have finished watching the interviews, go back and expand on your notes.

1. Why is Abe’s story an important one to tell?

2. What role did food play in the film? What did it represent?

3. How do Noah ("Abe") and Fernando (Director) see their own real lives and identities reflected in the film? How do they connect to the characters and story?

4. What questions would you ask of Noah and Fernando if you were interviewing them? Think of questions that would require a thoughtful response.
The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict: Religion, Politics, and History With Deep Roots

Teacher Resources
- Activity Sheet: “The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict: Religion, Politics, and History With Deep Roots”
- Activity Sheet: “The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict: A Timeline”
- History Channel Video “How The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict Began”: youtu.be/Bno1m1zhIWs

Teacher Note
This activity can be done prior to or after attending the Education Screening of Abe. This activity introduces the Israeli-Palestinian conflict to students in an accessible, unbiased way. Students will learn the history of the conflict, see the conflict from both an Israeli and Palestinian perspective, and think about how the conflict could be resolved peacefully and fairly. This is a highly complex issue, yet this lesson will help students dive into empathetic and critical analysis, considering the conflict’s past, present, and future.

Directions

1. (If using this lesson AFTER the screening…) Gather as a whole group to discuss the film. Run a discussion as best fits the needs of your classroom. Here are some discussion ideas to get you started:
   • Discuss personal reactions to the film (what they liked, didn't like, questions)
   • Discuss filmmaking techniques observed (camera shots, lighting, sound, effects)
   • Divide students into partners or small groups to discuss the film.
   • Students ask questions or voice what they are still wondering about, have other students respond with their ideas
   • Discuss by reactions: “What was confusing? Shocking? Interesting? Etc.”

2. Introduce the film’s source of tension, the greater Israeli-Palestinian conflict, played out in the microcosm of Abe’s family home. Pose the essential question students will be exploring today: Why is the Israeli-Palestinian conflict so complicated and challenging to resolve? Elicit background knowledge on the topic (facts and opinions).

3. Connect: Ask students to recall a time when they had a conflict/argument/disagreement with a peer (sibling, cousin, friend) that wasn’t resolved quickly. Model an example of your own and allow students to share. Reflect on what made the conflict persist and how it got resolved (if it did at all). Generally, what makes tough conflicts difficult to resolve? Discuss.

4. As a class, watch the History Channel video “How The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict Began”, linked above (can also be found on www.history.com). They should also have access to the accompanying timeline sheet that follows the video (print out or project). NOTE: There is a lot of information presented rapidly. It is recommended that the video be viewed more than once. Perhaps, watch it once through to familiarize students with the topic, then again, stopping after each section to discuss and check comprehension.

   *Trigger Warning: Brief footage of Holocaust victims, some war/conflict violence

5. Students work in small groups, using the timeline, information gleaned from the video, and background knowledge to understand the conflict from both an Israeli and Palestinian perspective. Be sure to note that not all Israelis nor all Palestinians agree or have the exact same ideas or approach to the conflict or its potential resolution. Together students discuss, citing evidence from the timeline, to gather thoughts on the accompanying note-taking sheet.

6. Come back together as a whole group to discuss, especially focusing on ideas and thoughts of finding peace in the region.

2019 ESSAY CONTEST

For a fifth year, Milwaukee Film is hosting an Essay Contest in conjunction with our Education Screenings. A judging panel will select the best essay and a runner-up from essays submitted in response to each screening’s standard, provided essay prompt. Winners and runners-up will receive an award in the form of a certificate and a gift card to a local bookstore. Submissions will be read anonymously, with name and school information removed from each essay prior to distribution to judges. Judges will assess each essay using a rubric informed by the Common Core State Standards for writing appropriate to the grade band into which the writing falls.

Submission Details:

- You may elect to send all of your students’ work or just a selection.
- For each submission, attach a completed and signed release slip (a set of these forms is attached).
- Mail all submissions to:

  Milwaukee Film attn: Essay Contest
  1037 W. McKinley Ave #200
  Milwaukee, WI 53205

- Submissions must be postmarked by December 31, 2019
- Teachers of winning entries will be notified by February 26th, 2020 and we will coordinate a date/time to present the award to the student. Due to anticipated volume, we unfortunately cannot inform all submissions’ teachers.

Essay Prompt—Grades 6-8:

The film you saw at the film festival, Abe, highlighted the larger Israeli-Palestinian conflict within Abe’s own family. One set of grandparents wanted him to identify as Jewish, and the other as Muslim, while his parents took a secular (non-religious), inclusive approach. Abe believed he could bring everyone together at the dinner table where the food represented his identities: Israeli, Palestinian, and American cultures. Write an essay in which you discuss how kids and teens can teach others about acceptance and inclusivity. Use specific examples from the film to explain your position and share ways kids and teens can lead the way.

Essays should be a minimum of three paragraphs and a maximum of five paragraphs long.

 değerlendirme

- TEACHERS! Feel free to do preparatory work in your classroom to help students do their best writing on this topic. For example, you might use the film guide at the front of this packet to jog students’ memories of the films they saw. After students have completed a first draft, feel free to have them workshop their writing and revise/edit their work accordingly. Submissions may be handwritten or typed, depending on your resources.
